JFK Seeks To Stem Gold Drain

By FRANK CORMIER
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today asked Congress to cut sharply the amount of foreign goods which American tourists can bring back to the United States without paying customs duties.

Kennedy proposed that the present $500 maximum be slashed to $100 in order to discourage tourists from buying costly souvenirs with dollars which foreigners could use to purchase American gold.

This was the most dramatic recommendation made by Kennedy in a 4,500-word special message on the gold problem which Kennedy said "justifies concern but not panic or alarm."

While the President had been expected to make a request of this sort, some were surprised by the extent of the proposed cut in the customs exemption.

The move was certain to cause concern in some countries, particularly Canada which entertains more American tourists than any other nation but which normally doesn't buy U.S. gold.

Most other major proposals represented attempts to place new emphasis on policies adopted earlier by the Eisenhower administration. For example, Kennedy promised new efforts to expand exports, attract foreign tourists, limit military spending abroad and channel foreign-aid dollars to American businesses.

One new idea: that Congress permit banks to pay foreign governments and central banks a higher rate of interest than Americans receive on savings accounts. The maximum rate now is three per cent.

Kennedy said action along this line "would enable American banks to make a maximum competitive effort to attract and hold dollar balances which might otherwise be converted into gold."

The effect could be significant since the foreign deposits involved total about $3 billion.

Kennedy also said the United States will seek an international review of the free world's monetary system, with the aim of ironing out some kinks. He hinted at possible tax law changes later to discourage some kinds of private American investment in Europe.

Kennedy said there is time to deal with the gold drain "calmly and deliberately" and declared it can be stemmed without erecting trade barriers or hamstringing military and foreign aid programs. He said the first requirement "is to take all possible steps to insure the effective performance of our own economic system."

Castro Seizes Firm Supplying Water To U.S. Guantanamo Base

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

HAVANA (AP)—The Cuban water company supplying the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo Bay since 1939 has been taken over by Fidel Castro's government. So far, however, there has been no interruption in the base's water supply.

The naval base made arrangements some time ago to get an adequate water supply by tankers if necessary. But one of the new government administrators for the Yateras Aqueduct Co., Antonio Batista, said operations would continue as before.

The Yateras Company, located on a river of the same name a few miles northwest of Guantanamo, first contracted to supply the base in 1939. The original 20-year contract is understood to have been renewed for a 10-year period running to 1969.

The company, founded by Henri Schueg, built an aqueduct and pumping station to send water to the base. The Navy expanded them in 1941 and 1942.

The government said it took over the company because the owners abandoned the property.

Weekend aides revealed an intensified campaign to link the Roman Catholic church here and the new Kennedy administration in Washington with Cuban counterrevolutionaries.

Say Cigarette Lighter Helped Them Survive

ALAMOSA, Colo. (AP)—A cigarette lighter—"that made the difference between life and death."

Pat Floyd, 28, thus summed up today how he and two others survived 38 hours in bitter cold on a snowy mountainside after their plane crashed Friday.

Floyd, his sister, Betty, 19, and the pilot, Bill Bradley, of Alamosa, were rescued Sunday morning from the slopes of Mt. Blanca.

Bradley's brother, Jack, a searching pilot, spotted their crude "help" appeal trapped in the snow. Within an hour a weasel—a tracked vehicle for going over deep snow—reached them.

All were hospitalized here. Floyd and Bradley suffered deep face cuts and bruises. Miss Floyd suffered a sprained ankle. All were suffering from various degrees of frostbite in the hands and feet.

The plane crashed in severe icing conditions on a flight from Denver to Alamosa in southwestern Colorado. One wing was ripped off the light plane but a 16-inch cushion of snow saved the occupants from serious injury.

"All our matches were wet," Floyd said, "so we couldn't start a fire. We just walked around Friday night trying to keep warm."

"When it got light enough to see Saturday morning we searched the wreckage and managed to find my cigarette lighter."

They used it to light oil from the airplane engine.

They were trapped in the same storm that caused two other private planes to crash in the region Friday. William D. Kelley Jr., 36, of Cumberland, Md., died when his single-engine craft smashed into a gully about 20 miles north of Brigham City, Utah.

The third plane disappeared on a flight between Rock Springs and Lander, Wyo. It was piloted by Buck Duane, 41, Lander businessman, and carried Terry J. Turner, 28, a Denver writer for Time-Life magazines.

Four Killed In Riots In Angola, Portugal Colony

By LUIS LUPI

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—Four persons were reported killed and seven wounded Sunday during new rioting in Luanda, capital of Portugal's West African territory of Angola.

The Portuguese news agency Lusitania reported shooting broke out during a funeral procession for seven policemen and soldiers killed in a clash Friday between a mob and police armed with machine guns. Nine civilians also were killed in the battle.

Gov.-Gen. Alvaro da Silva Tavares of Angola said all of Sunday's victims were rioters. Da Silva was in the funeral procession but there was no indication that the firing was directed at him.

Da Silva claimed he has evidence the rioters were "partisans of a Communist-inspired movement" which is preparing "to implant sovietism on the Iberian Peninsula."

Spokesmen for Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar's regime said modern Czechoslovak weapons were seized by police in Friday's clash.

An official of Portugal's international police denied the rioters Friday were marching on the police station or staging an uprising against Salazar's dictatorship. He declined to give details. A Canadian eyewitness to the shooting said it developed from a police crackdown on a crowd of drunken revelers at 4 a.m.

Da Silva, however, said Saturday the police had crushed an armed uprising supposedly timed with the ill-fated seizure of the Portuguese liner Santa Maria by rebels opposing Salazar. He said Luanda's police headquarters and civil and military prisons were attacked by rioters trying to free prisoners.

Mardi Gras Season Gets Gay Start

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—"Hey, mister, throw me something."

With that cry echoing through city streets, New Orleans' madcap Mardi Gras season got off to a roaring start over the weekend.

Before the bells of St. Louis Cathedral toll the close of Carnival at midnight Feb. 14, 25 parades with gaily decorated floats will roll through city streets. Almost as many gala masked balls will be held.

The five parades over the weekend were without incident as people frolicked along the parade route and youngsters and the young - at heart clamored for throws from the lavishly costumed figures on floats.

President Kennedy's youngest brother, Edward (Ted) Kennedy, helped give the pre-Lenten hinks a rousing sendoff.

The younger Kennedy and his wife reviewed parades Sunday and were later presented to the king and queen at the annual masked ball of the Krewe of Carrollton.

The usual "no vacancy" signs are missing from city hotels however. Larry Chopin, president of the New Orleans Hotel Association, said advance reservations are "slower than ever." He expects a last minute rush.

He attributed the falloff to the New Orleans integration crisis and recent bad weather throughout the nation.

AMA, CARE GROUPS CONSIDER WAYS TO WIDEN INSURANCE

CHICAGO (AP)—The American Medical Association has teamed up with three medical care associations to consider ways of promoting private health insurance coverage.

Joining AMA in the commission are the American Hospital Association, the National Association of Blue Shield Plans and the Blue Cross Association.

Representatives of the four groups voted Sunday for the establishment of the commission, an AMA spokesman said, to implement a resolution adopted by the AMA's house of delegates in Washington last December.

The resolutions by the house of delegates—the AMA's policy making body—called for the four groups to join in an effort to promote "maximum development of the voluntary non-profit prepayment concept to provide health care for the American people."

Kerner Asks Hike In Jobless Aid

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Gov. Otto Kerner today called for an increase in weekly jobless benefits to cushion the impact of rising unemployment.

The governor told a Steepleworkers Union conference that with immediate improvements in unemployment compensation, "This major built-in economic stabilizer can function effectively as a counter-recessionary device."

Consider China In Arms Talk

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk disclosed today that administration disarmament experts are studying the problem of whether and how Communist China can be brought into proposed disarmament schemes.

At his first news conference, Rusk also warned the American people against being unduly optimistic, as he put it, about improvements in relations with the Soviet Communist bloc. He said serious days and hard work lie ahead.

Rusk discussed U.S. foreign relations issues and answered questions for about 40 minutes.

He said the State Department public relations policy would be one of candid disclosure wherever possible and declared he fully recognizes the importance of an informed public opinion.

In a statement, Rusk called for development of a United Nations plan to bring peace and unity to the strife torn Congo but he said the primary responsibility "rests with President (Joseph) Kasavubu and other Congolese and leaders."

Rusk announced that Arthur H. Dean, New York attorney who has held some important diplomatic assignments in the past, will be chief U.S. negotiator when the nuclear test ban conference resumes at Geneva March 21.

Russia agreed Saturday to a postponement from Feb. 7 to the new date.

37 Killed As Masses Of Snow Tumble In Alps

By STAN CARTER

ROME (AP)—Sunny, springlike weather coming after snowstorms has brought great masses of snow tumbling down from the high peaks in the Alps. Highways and railroads are blocked, mountain villages isolated and at least 37 persons were killed.

Two giant avalanches 60 miles apart killed eight persons Sunday in Italy's northern mountains.

Many tons of snow smashed down upon the tiny village of Rochemolles, 6,100 feet up on Mt. Mellise on the Italian-French border.

Rescuers dug out seven injured persons from houses shattered by the snow. Bodies of two men and two women were found. Eighteen of the hamlet's 30 homes were destroyed.

The toll in the village of 250 people might have been higher but most of the younger people had left home for the winter to work at nearby ski resorts.

Sixty miles to the east, an estimated 10 million cubic feet of snow roared down the side of Great St. Bernard Mountain.

The avalanche crushed two wooden barracks for laborers on the tunnel being drilled through the mountain to provide an all-weather highway between Italy and Switzerland. Three men and a woman, employed as caretakers while work is suspended for the winter, were killed.

BRIEF LOOK AT JFK PROGRAM TO DAM GOLD FLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Here, in brief, are the recommendations made by President Kennedy today to stem the outflow of gold and end the deficit in foreign exchange:

1. Studies of how to strengthen international monetary institutions to increase reserves to support a growing world economy.

2. International Monetary Fund—The United States has never used its right to draw on this fund to meet deficits in the balance of payments; if and when appropriate, this will be done.

3. Amendment of the law to permit setting of special interest rates for dollar holdings here of foreign governments to attract and hold dollar balances which

Walters Resigns As Chicago Daily News Editor

CHICAGO (AP)—Basil L. (Stuffy) Walters, editor of the Chicago Daily News, has resigned effective June 1, and plans to develop his own firm of publishing consultants.

Marshall Field Jr., president and publisher of the Chicago Sun-Times and the Daily News, announced Walters' resignation today.

Walters, 64, has already formed his company, to be known as Newspaper Research Associates. Its offices will be in Indianapolis in his native state. Field said the newspaper division of Field Enterprises has arranged to retain the services of Walters' firm.

Walters' duties will be taken by Thomas H. Collins, managing editor of the Daily News and a member of its staff since 1942.

Walters, executive editor of the Daily News from 1944 to 1959 when it was one of the Knight Newspapers, was named editor by Field when he purchased it.

In a career in the newspaper field which started when he began delivering newspapers in Frankfort, Ind., at the age of 10, Walters has acquired a reputation as a stimulator of lively content and business success.

He worked up from the ranks on the Richmond, Ind., Palladium-Item, World War I service newspapers overseas, the Indianapolis Star and the Milwaukee Journal. In 1928 he reorganized the recently merged Des Moines Register and Tribune. In 1937 he tackled the Minneapolis Star for Cowles Publications. He joined Knight Newspapers in 1944 to live up to the Daily News and develop its circulation.

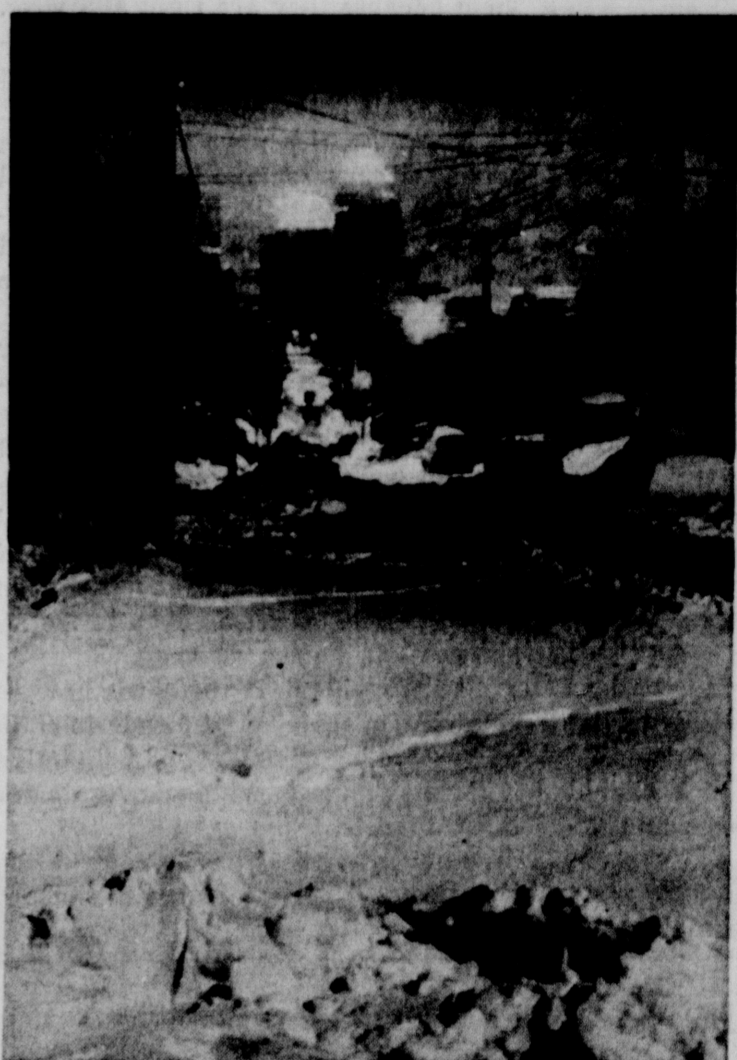

Walters' nickname, Stuffy, was acquired in his youth because he resembled the old time baseball player, John (Stuffy) McInnis.

Russ Still Silent On Sputnik

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union maintained an enigmatic and unusual silence today on the mission and fate of its massive new Sputnik. Western tracking stations picked up no trace of the satellite.

A Soviet scientist, Prof. Yevgeny Leonovich Klinov, hinted the seven-ton satellite, whose launching was announced Friday, was unmanned. He said it was designed to study the earth and its environment.

Moscow's official silence was in direct contrast to previous satellite launchings, when Soviet scientists (Continued On Page Five)

Pedalling Professor Tangles With The Law

By STAN KOVEN

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—For 27 years, in blizzard and heat, the professor pedaled serenely from home to campus—a dignified familiar figure along the 2 1/4-mile route.

Sometimes during the noon break in classes at Northwestern University he would hustle off on his lightweight bicycle to tend to family errands in the suburb's busy shopping district.

It was all very cozy and routine. Then the law stepped in. Overnight Professor Malcolm Dole and his bicycle became a cause celebre.

On three separate occasions, Professor Dole was confronted at an intersection of Sheridan Road by a young police officer.

The last time they met, on Jan. 20 it went badly for Professor Dole, a silver-haired member of the chemistry department faculty.

"This young officer radioed into the station for a paddy wagon," he related. "When they brought it around, they loaded the bicycle inside, and then me."

"Over at the station they placed me under guard in the squad room." In short order, the professor

Westinghouse Officer Gets Jail

By LEE LINDER

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Six large electrical companies, General Electric and Westinghouse among them, were fined a total of $150,000 today on the first of 20 federal indictments charging bid rigging and price fixing in violation of antitrust laws.

J. H. Chiles, a Westinghouse vice president, was given a 30-day jail term, one of the few times a defendant was sentenced to jail in an antitrust case. Chiles also was fined $20,000.

Chief Judge J. Cullen Gandy described the case involving 29 of the nation's biggest electrical firms as "a shocking indictment of a vast segment of our economy."

He said the defendants "mocked the image" of the nation's free enterprise system.

General Electric and Westinghouse each received $40,000 fines on the first count, involving the sale of power transformer equipment. On the same count, Judge Gandy fined Allis-Chalmers $25,000; McGraw-Edison $20,000; Mo-nroe Electric Co., $15,000 and Wagner Electric $10,000.

In his pre-sentencing remarks, Judge Gandy said those who guided the companies "bear a grave responsibility for what has happened. Accordingly heavy fines will be imposed on the companies."

Eisenhowers On Way To Sunshine Of California

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Dwight and Mamie Eisenhower put Pennsylvania's severe winter behind them and headed for California today.

The former president and his wife left this state capital by train for Palm Desert where they will stay at the exclusive El Dorado Golf Club, probably for two months.

"I am going out to get a little sunshine," a beaming Eisenhower said.

The party, which includes several members of the former president's staff, is due in California Wednesday morning. The vacation-bound travelers are riding in two private railroad cars, equipped with dining facilities, supplied by Ernest March, president of the Santa Fe Railroad.

The Eisenhowers boarded one of the cars early Sunday night and waited nearly nine hours before the coaches were hooked on to the Pennsylvania Railroad's Pennsylvania Limited for the first lap of the trip to Chicago.

In Chicago, the cars will be switched to a Santa Fe train for the trip to the West Coast.

More To Do Than Job Of Telling

Edward R. Murrow, the veteran news broadcaster who now heads the United States Information Agency, has a formidable assignment ahead of him. How well he performs it will depend not only on him but on President Kennedy.

Often in the past the USIA has been assailed for waste, for misguided presentation of the American story, for not maintaining sufficiently sound operating personnel in Washington and the field.

No doubt there are gains to be made in these matters. But a bigger USIA shortcoming needs to be overcome if the agency is to give this country full value.

If such an agency is being properly led, it should have a substantial voice not simply in the telling but in the making of the American story. In other words, it should play a role in the establishment of U.S. foreign and defense policy at the highest level.

Every move we make in these fields has obvious impact and repercussions on the world abroad. When the policies are framed, an expert in the molding and shaping of world opinion should be sitting in, and not merely as an observer.

Too many times in the postwar years we seem to have acted in matters of major importance without full regard to the psychological influence of our acts. On unnumbered occasions, the results have been bad.

Obviously there are things we must do sometimes without respect to their effect on world opinion. We must do them because they are right and wise. But in countless instances we can sensibly take account of the propaganda result without loss of our objective.

Moreover, there are even occasions when, without damage to our national purpose, we can tailor policies specifically to win significant psychological benefits among the peoples of the world.

To accomplish these vital goals for USIA, Murrow will have to prove himself far more than just a news expert with an immense amount of personal prestige. He will have to exhibit a high order of political judgment, and a real grasp of the nature and problems of both our friends and our adversaries in Europe, Asia, Africa and Latin America.

And President Kennedy will have to want him to achieve these ends, to sit in on the making of policy and help guide it for maximum psychological gain for the United States.

Few enterprises of the new administration will be watched with sharper interest.

Dividend, Plus A Puzzle

Meteorologists have received a pleasant dividend from the thousands and thousands of photographs transmitted to earth by the Tiro weather-satellites. The pictures show that cold fronts, warm fronts, cyclonic storms, etc., actually do look the way they have traditionally been drawn in textbooks. No one is resting on laurels, however. The pictures have also revealed strange cloud formations weathermen didn't know existed. The textbooks on the science of weather won't be completed for a long, long time.

Boyle Steams Up His Grist Mill Of Facts, Figures, Eye Openers

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:
Here's the real cost of obesity in middle age—every extra pound you put on increases your death chances roughly about 1 per cent.
Studies show that in people between 45 to 50, 10 pounds of excess weight lifts their mortality rate 8 per cent; 30 pounds, 28 per cent; and 50 pounds, 56 per cent.
What is your bag index? The average adult American, it is estimated, speaks about 4,800 words a day. About the same number a teen-ager uses in an hour on the telephone.
Prosperity note from Brazil: The presidential palace in Brasilia; the new capital, has 30 bathrooms. The U. S. White House, one of the world's stateliest execu-utive mansions, has 16.

Speaking of Brazil, if you're in a pioneering mood you can buy six acres of land for $1 in remote areas there, but you have to plant banana trees on your plot within a year to retain ownership.
Over seven million operations a year are performed in America. The most popular: tonsillectomies and appendectomies.
Our quotable notables: "When you're down and out something always turns up—and it's usually the noses of your friends."—Orson Welles.
Here's some consolation in a long hard winter: cold weather may make you shiver, but it also makes your mind keener. Science has found people can do physical labor best in a temperature of 65 degrees, but are at their mental best at 40 degrees. Above 70 degrees your thinking ability falls sharply.
How much more crowded can we get? Nearly 10 per cent of the American population now lives in five cities—New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, Philadelphia and Detroit.
Oddities of well-known people: Sophia Loren, one of the world's highest paid film stars, does her own hair. Sherman Billingsley of the Stork Club signs all his checks with his initials, "S. B." This is his legal signature at his bank.
More and more fathers will have to look up to their sons in the future. By the year 2,000 one of every three American men will stand a whisker under six feet tall.
Man's place-is-in-the-home item: A survey of 600 families across the nation showed 80 per cent of the wives spent at least one evening a month out with the girls, but only 76 per cent of the husbands had a night out with the boys.

Laotian War Firsthand And Role of U.S. Aid

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The war in Laos is a remote, uninteresting thing until you meet someone who has been in it.

John C. Cool, a 34-year-old Navy veteran from Beaver, Pa., has just come back from two years as a rural development adviser for the U.S. State Department's foreign aid program in Laos.

In his short life he has acquired a Ph.D. in anthropology, served as a local government official in American Samoa, worked as a tea company clerk and a tin company engineer in Malaya. He knows his way around the Pacific and Southeast Asia. His story put the Laos struggle in better perspective.

Last Dec. 15 he was at work with five other Americans and two Laotians on a village development project near Vientiane. A bus was supposed to take them back to the capital.

But this day the native driver forced the Pathet Lao Communist forces were going to invade the city, so he took off—with the bus. Cool drove the staff back to town in his small car.

When they got back to the ill-named Consolation hotel they found it under fire. So they went to the apartment of one of the Americans. When they got word of their whereabouts to the Marine guard at the U.S. embassy, they were told to stay put. They were there two days and nights, while mortar fire kept up, doing considerable damage.

Red paratroopers tried to swipe the car, but couldn't get it started. Cool and one of the Laotians went down and gave them some food to keep them from wrecking the car. They promised not to molest the party.

But that night the paratroopers pulled out, leaving guerrillas behind, and the situation changed.

During the night a loyal Laotian with an automatic rifle kept up sporadic fire from behind the apartment house. Next morning the guerrillas, thinking this fire had come from inside the house, stormed it with cries of "Kill the Americans." They shot down the door with their bazooka and came in. Systematically, they shot down the door to each room, forcing the occupants to come out.

When they came to the room where Cool was, he thought this would be it. But the young Laotian who was with him stepped in front of the guerrillas and said, "Big brothers, if you're going to shoot down these Americans, you'll have to shoot me, too, for our government asked them to come here, and they are our friends." Surprisingly, it worked.

There was still some concern that the Americans might be held as hostages by the Communists, which would have given them considerable bargaining power. But late in the second afternoon the U.S. military attaché and a British consul drove up. With typical British gall, the consul talked the guerrillas out of it. That night government troops re-entered the city, the guerrillas withdrew, and it was all over.

As for the 240 million dollars that the United States has spent in Laos in the last few years, "It hasn't gone down the drain," Cool insists, though he admits many mistakes.

Eighty per cent of it has been for military assistance. That has prevented the Sino-Soviet-backed forces from moving in. It has saved Thailand and Malaya and given them time to clean out their own Communists and strengthen their governments.

The 50 million dollars in non-military aid has reached perhaps 2,000 of the country's 11,000 villages, completing some 1,400 development projects.

They range from water wells which take three men a day to dig, to local airstrips, which take 3,000 men six weeks to clear and surface so supplies can be flown in where there are no roads. Most of the U.S. funds have gone for hand tools, galvanized iron and other materials not obtainable locally.

It is all basic economic aid to raise the standard of living of the 46 different cultural minority groups that make up the population but are by no means united as a nation.

But this aid, says Cool, has given them a feel of democratic action through village and county councils. The desire for schools and roads which the Communists have been promising for 14 years is being met by the Americans who have been delivering it. And even the Pathet Lao respect that.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

Papeete, Tahiti (AP)—The newest star in films hails from Bora Bora and couldn't care less about Hollywood.

Tarita, 19, lithe and lovely, was picked from Polynesia to play Marlon Brando's sweetheart in "Mutiny on the Bounty." Before her selection, she could have asked: Who is Marlon Brando? "I don't care much for the cinema," she explains.

That does not mean that she does not care much for Marlon Brando. "He is a very kind man," she says, "and he is very helpful in teaching me how to act."

Does their friendship go any farther than this? Not as yet. They dined together at the Hotel Tahiti. She was asked if she would go out with him again. The answer required five minutes, during which she blushed, covered her mouth to hide her smiling and finally came up with the diplomatic answer: "If he asks me."

As you can gather, an interview with Tarita does not produce a freshet of quotes. Fact is, she doesn't know what Hollywood is all about. She's going there to finish the movie and is anxious to see America.

Tarita's own home town is on an idyllic isle surrounded by a crystal clear lagoon and little touched by white man's civilization. Her father once made starch from tree roots, but now is retired, a normal condition for all ages in the Society Islands.

The girl advanced through the studying French history, geography and mathematics, left school to come and live with a married sister in Papeete. Tarita's great passion was to dance, and that was to be fateful in her future.

MGM had searched widely for a girl to play Maimite, the love of Fletcher Christian. Many actresses were considered in Hollywood, but Brando held out for a native girl. His contract gave him approval of his leading lady.

Tahiti was a source for likely prospects and the list was narrowed to 15. Tarita not among them. The 15 were put in a drama class, and Brando method-acted with each of them. None seemed to qualify.

Time was getting short. The company was shooting a festival scene with 100 dancers; one was supposed to be Maimite, who would entice Mr. Christian. During rehearsals, a single dancer stood out among the others as being particularly sinuous and beautiful. She was chosen: Tarita.

She is rather tall, has broad cheeks, dark eyes, wide, full mouth and long black hair. Her waist is tiny but other dimensions ample. She speaks no English.

Tarita lives with her sister's family—her parents were also visiting from Bora Bora—in a native dwelling up a mud path. Her interpreter, who had clambered through the slush to fetch her, said it could best be likened to a chicken coop.

From such surroundings, Tarita will now be plunged to Hollywood where she could serve out the full seven years of her contract. It may be quite a jolt.

So They Say

Being ourselves one of the most mongrel of all the strains of the human race, we somehow are not very adventurous about marriages of mixed colors. We are, stated in a word, prejudiced.

—Sir John Wolfenden, British educator.

When the Kremlin now speaks of peaceful coexistence, we all understand that this means communizing the world without war.

Our policy is not anti-American in any sense. We have tried to maintain normal diplomatic relations with Cuba... but it's inevitable when you run counter to U. S. policy, someone is going to call you anti-American.

—Howard Green, Canadian external affairs minister.

Horace Greeley did not originate the phrase "Go west, young man." It first appeared in an editorial by John B. L. Soule in the Terre Haute, Ind., Express in 1851. Greeley reprinted the editorial in his New York Tribune.

★ THE DOCTOR SAYS ★

Nits, Body Lice Are Ousted By New Treatment Method

By Harold Thomas Hyman, M.D.
Written For NEA

Ectoparasite is the fancy name we give a crawling insect that takes up residence in our hair or on our skin.

The pediculus capitis is the head louse who has a preference for a roof dwelling where there are all-cooled hairs on which to deposit eggs (nits).

The pediculus corporis is the body louse or "crab" who prefers the privacy and warmth of non-exposed hairy areas.

The itch mite of scabies likes to burrow into the webbing between the fingers and hatch its basket of eggs at the bottom of the tunnel.

Contrary to the views of many correspondents whose inquiries about ectoparasitism are either anonymous or signed with initials, an attack of pediculosis or scabies is not necessarily a social error of great magnitude.

A visit from an ectoparasite can happen to the best of us. And occasionally does. So don't be afraid to tell your doctor or your local pharmacist about it, especially if he happens to have a war record.

I think it's this reluctance to seek professional advice in the neighborhood that causes so many correspondents to complain that "they've tried everything" without success. For it's an unfortunate truth that none of the old-fashioned remedies is much good.

Some, like kerosene and benzene, are dangerous because of their flammability. It's doubtful that much is accomplished by larkspur (delphinium) or Balsam of Peru or ointments containing mercury and sulfur. And some of the newer insecticides are apt to be toxic when used in the large quantities necessary for effective action.

There is, fortunately, at least one safe and effective chemical that's death to both lice and mites when used according to directions. It's official name is 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6-hexachlorocyclohexane and it's best known under the registered trade name of Kwell.

Before applying Kwell lotion, it's necessary to take a long hot bath during which involved skin areas must be briskly scrubbed with soap on a tough brush. After drying, the lotion is applied wherever it's needed, and permitted to remain on for 24 hours. At the end of this time, it's removed during the course of another tubbing and scrubbing. And treatment is completed by a complete change of bed and personal linens and clothes, and a removal of nits with a fine-toothed comb.

The big problem that remains is that of preventing re-infection. For, unless the toilet seat is scrubbed and other members of the household subjected to the same treatment, if needed, the "boarders" will return little the worse for their temporary eviction.

Fifty-seven general officers of the Union Army in the Civil War were born in Ohio. The list includes Ulysses S. Grant and William T. Sherman.

The Mature Parent

Our Shoulders Can't Bear Weight of Blame for All

MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
I am explaining why I couldn't sell more raffle tickets to my church club's president when my 8-year-old bursts into the room. Ignoring the guest, he demands permission to dine at a friend's house. "Buck got a whole train system for his birthday—tunnels, signals, switches, a station, everything!" he tells me breathlessly. "And his mother really said for me to come to supper. She..."

I interrupt. I say, "Mrs. Dodd, this is my son Matt. Matt, this is Mrs. Dodd..."

But Matt isn't interested in courtesy to Mrs. Dodd. Barely glancing at her, he says "Oh"—and resumes his plea for permission to dine at Buck's house. Aware of Mrs. Dodd's critical silence, I feel my face reddening. I say sharply, "No, you can't go out on a school night!"

And am upset by the memory of Matt's bad manners for the rest of the afternoon.

Yet I am not responsible for his fascination with electric trains. It was not my fault that this fascination overwhelmed his interest in good manners. I could not control the coincidence that brought his fascination with trains into conflict with my training in politeness. Nor am I responsible for the stuffiness of Mrs. Dodd who felt that 8-year-old courtesy should always triumph over 8-year-old interest in electric trains.

However, some of us always have to assume the blame for anything that goes wrong.

If we lose our temper with a child, the resulting scene is our fault—and the child's stubborn defiance made no contribution to it.

A tradesman cheats us—and we are so wild at our carelessness that we have no anger left for the tradesman's dishonesty.

Never can we be content with 75 per cent of the blame for adverse happenings. No, it's the 100 per cent guilt that always belongs to us.

Such responsibility for keeping everything and everyone in order is neurotic.

Life cannot be so directed by anyone. We are no more responsible for Matt's passion for electric trains than we are for stuffy Mrs. Dodd's opinions of it.

Goals For Americans

Tartare Gives Flounder Filets Zest

FROM FREEZER to frying pan, filets of flounder are a convenient meatless meal. Tartare sauce adds to the taste.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Frozen squares of flounder provide easy and quick-to-prepare meals. Most of them come already breaded, and many are packed six portions in a carton for family meals.

Filets Tartare
1 package frozen six-portion filets of flounder
Melted butter or margarine
Salt and pepper
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
2 tablespoons drained pickle relish or finely chopped pickles
2 teaspoons grated onion
1 teaspoon parsley flakes
1 teaspoon lemon juice
Salt and pepper
1 large egg white (or 2 small)

Prepare fish filets for broiling according to package directions, brushing each filet with melted butter and seasoning with salt and pepper. Broil. While fish cooks, combine mayonnaise, pickle relish, onion, parsley and lemon juice. Season with a dash of salt and pepper. In a separate small bowl, beat egg white until stiff. When fish is done, turn filets. Fold mayonnaise mixture into egg white and put a spoonful on each filet. Lower broiling rack to about 3 inches from heat and continue broiling two or three minutes until topping is puffy and golden brown. Serve.

at once with lemon wedges.
Baked Filets With Onion Crunch Topping
1 package frozen six-portion filets of flounder
1 can (10½-ounce) condensed cream of celery soup
One-third cup milk
Dash of pepper
2 tablespoons grated Parmesan or Romano cheese
1 can French fried onions
Preheat oven to 500 degrees F. Arrange frozen filets in single layer in shallow baking dish. Blend soup and milk; add dash of pepper. Pour over fish. Bake about 20 minutes. Sprinkle with grated cheese, then with French fried onions. Return to oven 2 to 3 minutes. Do not overbake onions.

Teen-Agers Are Hard-Headed About Clothes

RUTH MILLETT, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
A French dress designer who hopes to design clothes for American teen-agers has come to this country armed with seven questions. If he can get answers to these questions, he figures he'll know enough about American girls to start designing clothes for them.

He shouldn't have any trouble getting the answers. Anyone who knows anything at all about teen-agers could answer them for him without a moment's hesitation.

Here are the questions and, all for free, the answers, too.
"Do you like to be dressed as a woman or a young girl?"
Neither. As a teen-ager—which is neither a woman or a young girl but a separate and distinctive age.

"Which would you choose: A dress to please your boy friend or a dress which is in fashion?"
A dress which is in fashion, naturally. What do boys know about clothes?

"Are you free to choose the dress you want or do you have to have your parents' approval?"
Are you talking? We've been choosing our own clothes since we started to school in the first grade.

"How much money are you allowed for buying dresses?"
As much as we can talk our mothers out of and that depends on how much they can talk our fathers out of.

"Does it make you and if at a party someone is wearing the same dress as you?"
Heavens, no. Not unless the other girl is an absolute loser. What would ruin an evening for us is to show up wearing heels when all the other girls were wearing loafers—or vice versa.

"Do you prefer to buy one dress very beautiful and expensive or a number of dresses less rich looking and costing less?"
The more, the better. We aren't label conscious like our mothers.

WHAT EVER HAPPENED TO BABY JANE

By Henry Ferrell

Copyright © 1939 by Henry Ferrell Distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

THE STORY: Although the former child star Baby Jane Hudson is now an old woman, she still lives in a world of memories of her former success. Jane cares for her crippled sister, Blanche, an old time movie star. Jane has always been envious of Blanche and now Jane plans to return to the stage and has advertised for an occupant. When Jane returns home she finds Blanche, who fears Jane is unbalanced mentally, plotting a death.

think I don't know what's going on—what you're trying to do to me!"

And then she was grasped roughly beneath the arms and lifted to her feet.

"Oh, don't! Please—"

She was being dragged, pulled, through the hallway and out into the living room.

Then Jane was forcing her up the steps. After what seemed an age, her chair loomed dimly before her, and she was whirled about and hurled into it. She fell back into the seat jarringly, limply, moaning with fright and pain.

Then she was careening crazily into her room. Out of the screaming confusion her bed materialized, hurled itself forward, struck against the arm of her chair.

And then she struck the wall and received an almost paralyzing blow in the small of the back.

Gasping for breath, she struggled to right herself in the chair but was unable to do so. She lay panting against the arm, her eyes fixed on the figure in the doorway.

"Jane!"

The glittering eyes returned in her direction. "Just don't wait for any doctor to come and help you," Jane said. "Just don't wait for anyone."

In the lower hallway, Jane picked up the phone, righted it and dialed.

She made her voice low, gave it a soft note of urgent secrecy that made it sound remarkably like Blanche's.

"This is Miss Hudson," she said. "Please let me speak to the doctor."

Good Penmanship Still Key To Grades

BY LESLIE J. NASON, Ed.D., with HARRY KARNES
Don't kid yourself that good penmanship is no longer important in this world of typewriters, dictaphones, and tape recorders. It's just as important to you as it was to your grandfather when he went to school.
Poor handwriting is one of the major reasons why students fail. The student has no typewriter or recorder with him in the classroom when taking notes or answering exam questions. If he writes well, he stands a better chance of making good grades. Writing happens to be a complex chore.

First, you must form a concept or picture in your mind. Then you must put this into words and arrange the words in sentences. Next, you must write all the necessary letters and symbols on the paper with the capitals and the punctuation marks in the right places and with the words spelled correctly.
Writing is a muscular as well as a mental operation. If the writing muscles are poorly trained and too weak to work very long, you are handicapped almost as much as you would be by a damaged brain. We never really understood what a severe block poor writing habits can be until we met John. He came to us complaining of low grades on essay type exams. His penmanship was terrible.
We suggested simply that he practice writing. We hoped his grades might be raised by what is called the "halo" effect. That is, the teacher might grade him higher because his paper looked good.

Ed felt that an injustice had been done. He had worked hard, and he deserved better grades.
"What the heck am I doing wrong?"
An analysis of the papers showed that Ed didn't write easily. The further he went in the exam, the worse his writing got, until finally it deteriorated into a meaningless scrawl.
The physical chore distracted him from the subject matter.
We advised him to train his writing muscles and exercise them. We gave him a brief paragraph of three sentences and told him to write it over and over again.
Try the following procedure, which we suggested to him:
1. Sit at a desk or table of comfortable height.
2. Get your arm in a comfortable position.
3. Hold your pencil in a comfortable manner, without cramping your hand or fingers.
4. Write several trial words. Remember that style of penmanship doesn't matter. The important thing is to form letters reasonably well and move the pencil easily on the paper.
5. Write three brief sentences over and over again. By the third writing you should have the material you are copying so clearly in mind that you can center your attention on the task of controlling your hand.
6. Now insist that your hand make well-formed letters and words without lifting the pencil from paper.
Practice in this way 20 minutes each day. Use different materials for each day's practice.

Quit While Ahead
Caution: Don't practice too long at any one time. Your penmanship starts deteriorating rather than improving. Quit for the day.
Ed practiced thus for 10 days, took another exam in economics, and liked his grade to "B." The pen, provided you know how to hold it, is mightier than the sword.
If you are used to writing in English and you try to write in a foreign language, you face new problems. Some letters are shaped differently. You run into marks that normally appear in English but are not in the pronunciation aids in dictionaries.
Practice writing the foreign language in the same way suggested for muscular training in writing English. Select three sentences containing the strange new letters and markings, repeated 10 times will develop skill and accuracy.
Phyllis was discouraged by poor grades in French. We discovered she was losing points because of errors in small details—an accent mark omitted, a word misspelled, a letter incorrectly formed. By exercising as outlined above, she got to the point where she could think of subject matter and still do a good job of writing.

Henry's problem was slightly different. His teacher read in Spanish without attempting translation. Henry couldn't write fast enough to keep up, and he had a hard time reading his own work, in Spanish or English. A few days of practice 20 minutes a day resulted in substantial improvement.
We want to warn you about something with regard to writing exercises ONLY—nothing more. It's not sufficient to pay attention to your penmanship while writing letters, taking notes, or making entries in your diary. The fact that your mind is centered on some other activity defeats your purpose.
TOMORROW: How to listen.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market is striving mightily to make up its mind what's ahead. Prices have been moving up almost steadily since October, although corporate earnings generally have been slipping since early in 1960.
But the large trading volume last week with little price change in the list as a whole shows how divided opinion is today.
Is business going to pull itself out of its downturn and boom? Or will it sink lower—or perhaps take a momentary spurt from Washington pump-priming and then slump?
Stock traders and the stock-conscious public have a new flood of corporate earnings—thoroughly mixed—to interpret. The early reports indicate that cost cutting has put a stop to sliding profits for many companies, but far from all.
The market also is trying to decide between conflicting Washington reports. It has President Kennedy's grim warning on what might happen and how he plans to forestall a real recession. It has President Kennedy's assurance that things are sure to get better fairly soon anyway. But the market also has to weigh the possibility of another ride on the rollercoaster of inflation.
Economists have tried to help the market make up its mind. But they, too, differ. The majority has been saying that the traditional cycle is about to touch bottom, if it hasn't already, and start up again around mid year. But others warn that the postwar days of general expansion with recurring mild recessions have given way to a new and tougher era that business must learn to live with.
The earnings curve of U.S. corporations has been steadily down since the first quarter of 1960, when the Department of Commerce figures put net income after taxes at around $6 billion for the first three months of the year. By the third quarter it was down to less than $5 billion. The signs are that when the final three months are tabulated the earnings will be roughly the same.
But stock prices, as measured by popular indexes has been rising for several months. The Associated Press index of 60 stocks stood at 206 September 30, closed the year at 221, and last week was up to 236, for a gain of 1 point on the week.
The Dow Jones index of 30 industrial stocks closed 1960 at 616, but Friday stood at 653. The gain has been interpreted as due to some traders discounting an expected upturn in business in the second half of 1960, or of others expecting a big nudge to the economy from the Kennedy administration, or still others thinking inflation will be revived and with it rising stock prices.

Current earnings reports for 1960 are well scrambled. Industries trailing their 1959 earnings, on the basis of reports so far, include: Aircraft, with some companies operating at a loss; railroads running 25 per cent behind 1959; metalworking off 31 per cent; machinery and tools 30 per cent down; electrical equipment and appliance firms as a whole off 17, glass 15, rubber 14, cement 14, textiles 14, building materials 10, drugs 8, paper 5 and chemicals 4 per cent.
Against these figures are some record highs, such as American Telephone & Telegraph and International Business Machines, and most of the giant banks.
Steel companies did better in 1960, largely because of the 1959 strike. And so did nonferrous mining and processing companies, for the same reason. Oil companies are reporting profits up 9 per cent; coal up 5, retail firms up 5, motors up 3, and food companies up 3. Tobacco companies are ahead, despite the Cuban losses of some of them.
And the utilities managed to keep about their usual gain, up 8 per cent in 1960 despite slow-downs of some companies in hard hit industrial areas.
Early guesses on what the current first quarter will show are equally mixed. But for industry as a whole the prospects are for about the same earnings as in the final months of 1960, although well below the record profits scored in the first quarter of last year.

TRIPLE THREAT—Irene Dalis, now in her fifth year with the Metropolitan Opera, can sing dramatic mezzo and soprano roles and occasionally assays the coloratura range. She has proved one of the most versatile prima donnas of this century.

CAT'S FUR—Shaggy-dog stories aren't always true, but this shaggy cat is the real thing in Dallas, Tex. Possessing a full and fluffy coat that rivals a lion's mane, the rare Burmese cat strikes a regal pose during a local cat show.

WHERE'S THE OWL?—Bubbles goes to sea in Tujunga, Calif. Her mistress, 4-year-old Therese Gray, was playing with the floating pot in a puddle formed in her yard by drought-breaking rain. Mother rescued voyager Bubbles.

MOVIES IN THE SKY—Movies will be a regular thing this spring on TWA jets. Showings will be given on all nonstop coast-to-coast and transatlantic flights. A 16-mm projector focuses on a screen at the front of the first-class cabin. Individual headsets are used for the soundtrack.

KENNEDY APPOINTS NASA DIRECTOR—James E. Webb, 54, succeeds T. Keith Glennan as director of National Aeronautics and Space Administration. Webb, right, shown discussing the post with President Kennedy at the White House, was formerly director of the Budget Bureau (1946-49) and undersecretary of state (1949-52).

Science Shrinks Piles
New Way Without Surgery
Stops Itch—Relieves Pain
New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.
In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.
Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"
The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

New Storm Heads Into Midwest Area

able service would be restored today.

New York City, its 6,000 miles of streets nearly strangled with almost a foot and a half of snow, still closed to all but emergency travel late Sunday.

The city's two major airports, Idlewild and La Guardia resumed operations Sunday night after being closed since Friday, forcing cancellation of some 2,600 flights.

The four major railroads operating out of the city hoped to be back on schedule after a day of operation without the semblance of a timetable.

In Rhode Island, officials called the storm the worst in at least 57 years.

Among the hardest hit communities was Cortland, N.Y., which measured 40 inches of snow, the heaviest in the city's history. Boston had 14.4 inches but the northern areas of New Hampshire, Vermont and Maine escaped the full fury as the storm moved out to sea.

The storm came on the heels of 16 consecutive days of sub-freezing temperatures but the mercury was expected to climb in the sunny 30s today.

The storm moving northeastward out of the south central portion of the country was expected to spread sleet or snow from eastern Oklahoma, Kansas and northeast Texas across southern Arkansas and into the Ohio Valley and Tennessee.

Kerner Asks Hike In Jobless Aid

In the steel industry in Illinois, he said, employment during the period of December 1959 to December 1960 has dropped by more than 35,000.

Kerner last week said he would ask the Legislature to give another 13 weeks of jobless benefits to 30,000 workers who have exhausted normal benefits in the past three months.

The governor said the Workmen's Compensation and Occupational Disease Act "must be strengthened by bringing benefits in line with the rise in wage levels."

Kerner told the union meeting that he will "rally all the authority at the command of the governor's office" to enact fair employment practices legislation.

BEANS, GRAINS IN MODERATE DEMAND

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybeans and most grain futures were in moderate to good demand today at prices firm to strong on the Board of Trade.

Corn and most soybean contracts hit their highest prices of the season in early dealings as offerings slackened. Corn strengthened on buying credited to export interests. Gains generally were more than a cent a bushel.

The government announcement Friday that it will buy 100 million pounds of refined vegetable oils in the open market for emergency relief overseas stiffened the soybean oil and soybean markets.

Wheat started off firm but weakened on selling which dealers said appeared to be linked with reports of beneficial snowfall over much of the winter crop area.

Shortly before noon, soybeans were 2 1/2-3 1/2 cents a bushel higher, March $2.70 1/4; wheat 1 1/2-1 3/4 lower, March $2.13 1/4; corn 1 1/4-1 1/2 higher, March $1.18 1/2; oats 3/4 higher, March 67 1/2 cents; rye 3/4 higher, March $1.23.

At the close soybeans were 1 to 2 1/4 cents a bushel higher, March $2.69-69 1/4; wheat 1/2 lower to 3/4 higher, March $2.13 1/4; corn 1 1/4 to 2 cents higher, March $1.18 1/2; oats 3/4 to 1/2 higher, March 67 1/2; rye 3/4 to 3/8 higher, March $1.22 1/2.

CHICAGO (AP) —

Losses of most key stocks went from fractions to a point or so. A number of pivotal and specially situated issues bucked the down trend.

Turnover was considerably below the pace last week.

The tone was generally lower for stocks, autos, rails, rubbers, nonferrous metals, chemicals, and electrical equipments.

The market was vulnerable due to its advance which put some averages at historic highs last week.

General Electric and Westinghouse Electric both lost more than a point as sentences were imposed for illegal price fixing and bid rigging in the big antitrust case against many electric equipment firms.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 5.11 at 647.66. Corporate and U.S. government bonds were steady.

ALTON MAN FATALLY SHOT

ALTON, Ill. (AP) — An Alton man died Sunday of bullet wounds received in a shooting over a $4 gambling debt, police said.

He was Essie Robinson, 50, a laborer.

Police arrested Albert Dunn, 39, of Alton, after he was identified by witnesses as the assailant.

Robinson was a Negro.

DIES IN PLANE WRECK

Castro Seizes Firm Supplying Water To Base

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market declined in fairly active trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 50 at 236.00 with industrials down 1.30, rails down .40 and utilities up 20.

Losses of most key stocks went from fractions to a point or so. A number of pivotal and specially situated issues bucked the down trend.

Turnover was considerably below the pace last week.

The tone was generally lower for stocks, autos, rails, rubbers, nonferrous metals, chemicals, and electrical equipments.

The market was vulnerable due to its advance which put some averages at historic highs last week.

General Electric and Westinghouse Electric both lost more than a point as sentences were imposed for illegal price fixing and bid rigging in the big antitrust case against many electric equipment firms.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 5.11 at 647.66. Corporate and U.S. government bonds were steady.

Maxwell, January Win Big Dough In Golf Open At Palm Springs

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Writer
PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—The Palm Springs Golf Classic was played for a local charity, but two Texans who live only three blocks apart made it even more of a local benefit by winning most of the prize money.

Of the two, plump Billy Maxwell of Dallas won more prestige, by playing 90 holes of golf in 345 strokes.

But slender Don January of Dallas won a lot more money, by playing one hole of golf in one stroke.

Maxwell, who hadn't won a tournament on the PGA tour since the 1958 Memphis Open, got $3,300 for coming home ahead of 63 other pros in Sunday's final round.

January won a $50,000 bonus prize for scoring a hole in one—the first of his 24-year golfing career—three days earlier.

A non-Texan, handsome Ken Venturi, probably won the most sympathy by blowing a slim lead with a 4-over-par 8 on the fourth

Moline Has High Hopes For Trip To Champaign

By HOWARD W. HARGRAVE
Sports Editor, Rock Island Argus
ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP)—Moline, a long-time Illinois prep basketball power, has its hopes high for its first trip to the Illinois state tournament at Champaign since 1955, but there are a lot of obstacles.

One of these problems is internal, because Coach Jack Foley hasn't found a fifth starter with the scoring potential the Maroons had expected before sharpshooter Jim Officer went to neighboring East Moline.

The other problems are with the opposition, which is bound to be a threat come tourney time, even though the Maroons have steam-rolled Quad-City and Mississippi Valley Conference rivals while piling up a 13-2 record, best in the Northwest area.

As usual, the Maroons have regional worries with such other Quad-City foes as Rock Island, a 32-50 victim two weeks ago and still feared as they near their second regular season meeting on Feb. 24.

But even larger looms the shadow of 6-9½ Skip Thoren, East Rockford's mighty center, who paced the E-Rabs to a 70-57 victory over the Maroons in the season opener. East Rockford, is favored to reach the Rock Island super-sectional as the opponent for this area's regional-sectional product.

Even without Officer, the Maroons have achieved a team balance that's the envy of their neighbors. Outside of that loss to East Rockford and a 70-55 upset

NBA World Light Heavyweight Title For Grabs

By The Associated Press
The National Boxing Association's version of the world light heavyweight boxing title, stripped from Archie Moore for his failure to defend within the time limit, will be up for grabs Tuesday at Miami Beach.

Harold Johnson, 32-year old Philadelphian who once was knocked out by Moore in a title fight (1954), is favored to win the vacated title in a 15-round match with Jesse Bowdry, 23-year-old St. Louis boxer. Bowdry whipped Willie Pastrano Dec. 27 at Miami Beach to get the shot.

There will be no television.

Each fighter has put up $5,000 to guarantee a defense against a top NBA contender within 90 days, if he wins.

Denny Moyer, Portland, Ore. welter, subs for Federico Thompson of Argentina as a Saturday night opponent for Charely Scott of Philadelphia at Madison Square Garden. Thompson reportedly still was bothered by cuts from his last fight. The fight will be carried on network ABC television.

Moyer has a 27-3 record, Scott 26-14.

Undefeated Joey Archer's upset victory over middleweight contender Don Fulmer of the fighting family of West Jordan, Utah, may move him up in class.

The 22-year-old New York longshoreman showed promise in gaining a split decision over the 21-year-old Fulmer in a television 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden Saturday night.

It was Archer's 30th triumph in four years of pro battling. The defeat snapped Fulmer's unbeaten streak at eight. The kid brother of NBA middleweight champion Gene Fulmer has a 24-1-1 record.

FINES SELF
CANON CITY Colo. (AP)—After deciding several other cases, Municipal Judge John I. Williams left the bench and fined himself $5 for an illegal left turn with his automobile. He also commended the officer who wasn't afraid to give a judge a ticket.

Ray Berry of the Baltimore Colts led the National Football League in pass receiving last season. He caught 74, ten of which were good for touchdowns.

Archie Oldham, former St. John's University star, is in his third season as Columbia University basketball coach.

Canisius Spills Notre Dame, 79-72

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Canisius came on like a forest fire in the final four minutes Saturday night to spill Notre Dame, 79-72.

Canisius, a sophomore-dominated club with an in-and-out record of 9-9, staged a 13-2 rally to wrap it up after trailing at 68-66 with four minutes to go.

Bill O'Connor contributed five points to the rally and finished the night with 27.

It was a rough, closely-called game with 39 personals, 23 against the Irish. Notre Dame outscored the Griffins from the field, but made 14 of 24 free throws to 25 of 35 for Canisius.

Armand Reo, who sat out the first 10 minutes of the last half with four fouls, led Notre Dame with 18 points as the Irish dropped their ninth game in 19 starts.

LONG WAY 'ROUND
PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP)—It took 19 years, 11 months and 21 days for Clifford Combs to reach the point of his original assignment with the U. S. Marine Corps.

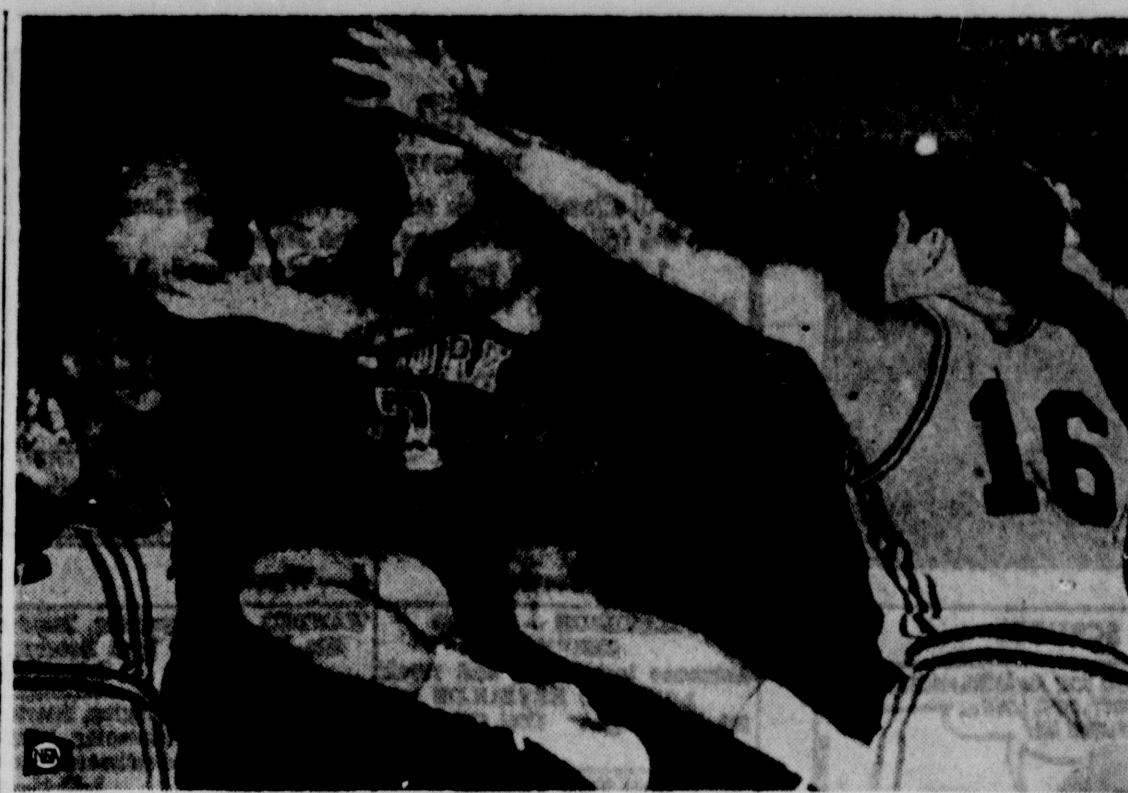

Gunnery Sgt. Combs arrived at Parris Island on July 1, 1960. He explained that when he enlisted Aug. 10, 1940, he was dispatched to Parris Island, but got only as far as Yemassee, S. C. before a hurricane hit the area.

The storm damaged the base so badly recruits were sent elsewhere for training.

Before reaching Parris Island, Sgt. Combs saw action in many spots including Guadalcanal, New Britain, Peleliu and Okinawa. He also was a civilian from 1946 until 1951, when he returned to active duty with a reserve unit.

The San Francisco 49ers yielded the fewest number of points in National Football League games last season. They permitted only 205 tallies.

SIU Cinches A Share Of IAC League Crown

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Southern Illinois, running its victory string to 10 games last week, clinched at least a share of the Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference basketball championship.

It was a great week for the Salukis, who only Tuesday night knocked off Tennessee A&M, the nation's No. 1 small college basketball team, and then romped past Eastern Michigan and Central Michigan, assuring themselves of a title share.

Southern Illinois, 9-0 in the IAC, can wrap up its first undisputed title Saturday night against Northwestern Illinois.

Charlie Vaughn, ineligible in the first half of the season, was the big man in the two weekend victories. He scored 29 points in the 20-30 triumph over Eastern Michigan and hit for 26 points in the 104-70 crushing of Central Michigan.

Defending champion Western Illinois was pushed out of the picture by Northern Illinois, 76-75, Friday night on a basket by Jim Capers in the final seconds of play.

The Leathernecks, however, took it out on Illinois State Saturday night with an 88-83 victory. Illinois State dropped into a second place tie with Eastern Illinois, which came up with a pair of victories.

Eastern clipped Central Michigan, 80-73, and then hammered Eastern Michigan, 114-83. Eastern and Illinois State both have 5-3 records.

Six IAC games are scheduled this weekend. Friday's games find Western Illinois at Eastern Michigan, Northern Illinois at Eastern Illinois and Illinois State at Central Michigan.

Saturday's schedule has Northern Illinois at Southern Illinois, Western Illinois at Central Michigan and Illinois State at Eastern Michigan.

Illinois Prep Picture Bears Mussed Up Look

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—With three weeks left in the regular season, the Illinois prep basketball picture bears a slightly mussed up look as the result of losses suffered by four rated teams.

Collinsville and Centralia, one-two ranked leaders, held up their end during weekend action but Springfield faltered twice and Waukegan posted double victories.

Waukegan, beaten only twice this season, ran its string to eight in a row by downing Cicero Morton's tough challenger 44-39 and Evanston 39-33.

Once-defeated Peoria Manual made it a total of 17 victories with decisive conquests of Pekin 72-48 and Springfield Lanphier 66-73. Manual has captured its last eight.

Prospect, which was dumped by Wheaton 10 days ago for its first defeat, came bounding back to whip East Leyden 51-44 and Glenbrook 75-47 to reach 19 triumphs.

Carver and Marshall, two Chicago teams in the top 16, collected wins that expanded their records to 18-1 and 16-3 respectively. Carver trimmed South Shore 65-53 and Calumet 55-48. Marshall brushed aside Wells 61-36.

Crane Tech, another leading Chicago entry, traveled downstate and defeated Canton 72-60.

Hurryin' Hoosiers Get A Shot At The Breezin' Buckeyes

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Indiana's hurryin' Hoosiers, last team to beat Ohio State, get another chance at the breezin' Buckeyes tonight in the first game of a home-and-home series with the defending NCAA champions and college basketball's No. 1 team.

The Bucks play the Hoosiers at Columbus, Ohio, seeking their seventh straight Big Ten victory, and, overall, their 21st consecutive triumph since Indiana's 99-83 decision at home on Feb. 29, 1960.

Tonight's game, and the rematch at Bloomington, Ind., Feb. 20, should determine whether All-America Jerry Lucas and his capable Ohio State Co. will nail another Big Ten title and a chance at another NCAA championship.

Ohio State is 6-0 in the conference and 15-0 this season after crushing Michigan 80-58, in a minor road test Saturday. Indiana is 3-1 in the Big Ten and 10-4 overall after riding big Walt Belamy's 34 points and all-around play to a 90-78 victory over Northwestern.

The Big Ten showdown triggers another big week on the college courts, heading a schedule packed with important tests for the conference and independent teams alike in their push for places in the two March tournaments—the NCAA and the National Invitation. The tournaments are wide open with a month of heavy play remaining and only one team definite—second-ranked St. Bonaventure, which has accepted an at-large invitation to the NCAA in hopes of another crack at Ohio State, its only conqueror in 17 games this season.

The Bonnies, sky-high after beating third-ranked Bradley last week, play at home tonight against Tennessee State, the top-ranked small college team, then meet Boston College at Buffalo on Saturday.

Bradley, still leading the Missouri Valley Conference despite a loss to surging Cincinnati last week, plays conference foe Drake at Peoria tonight.

Mississippi State, unbeaten in the Southeastern Conference, entertains Tulane, and Kansas needs only to beat Colorado to pull into a tie with Kansas State in the Big Eight.

The scrambled lead in the Middle Atlantic Conference race is up for grabs in a Philadelphia Palestra doubleheader that matches Temple with Muhlenberg and LaSalle with St. Joseph's in games put back 48 hours by the Eastern snowstorm.

In two independent matches tonight, Detroit (12-6) is at Xavier of Ohio (11-5), and Richmond at Memphis State (15-2).

Ohio State hit 66 per cent in the first half, then let reserves get a workout against Michigan last Saturday. Duke, setting 36 points from soph Art Heyman, snapped North Carolina's 12-game streak, 81-77. Cincinnati's streak went to 11 in a 77-60 rout of sixth-ranked Iowa. Mississippi State won its eighth straight, 77-61 over LSU, and Oregon's seventh in a row was 71-58 over Oregon State.

Several big streaks were ended, besides North Carolina's. Southern California's ended at eight, 86-83 to UCLA; Florida's at seven, 89-63 to Kentucky; Memphis State's at six (and 32 at home), 96-77 to Dayton; and Army's at nine, 86-72 to Boston College.

Search-Rescue Squad In Jacksonville Area Holds First Meeting

The first meeting of a citizens' committee to support a search-rescue squad for use in Jacksonville and surrounding area was held last week by the group which numbers eleven members thus far. Chairman Bill Buchanan said the group will gradually be enlarged to include about eighteen members in the near future.

First Baptist Circles Hold February Meets

On Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 1, the Margaret Bollinger Circle No. 3, Mrs. Henry Depp, chairman, met at the home of Mrs. Ruth Hawk, with 11 members present.

The devotions, based on "The Rich Young Ruler," (18th Chapter of Matthew) were given by Mrs. Evelyn Kitchens. The mission study, presented by Mrs. Leon Stewart, were excerpts from Baptist Missionary letters. A social hour followed with the hostess serving tasty refreshments.

On Thursday, Feb. 2, the Mary Mills Circle No. 1, Mrs. C. O. Lindsay, chairman, met with Mrs. Lindsay, with five members and three guests present. Mrs. Lindsay gave devotions on "How to Begin and End the Day." Mrs. William Townsend read the Mission Study and also read a letter from the Baptist Mission School in Arizona. Cancer dressings for the Morgan County Chapter were folded during the afternoon. The hostess served delicious refreshments.

On Thursday afternoon, Feb. 2, the Helen Benjamin Circle No. 2 met with Mrs. Muri Briscoe, with seven members present. Cancer dressings were folded for the Morgan County Chapter. The devotions, entitled "In Christ's Service," were given by Mrs. Claude Lewis, and the Mission Study, "Glorious Heritage," by Mrs. C. R. Dowland.

The Book of the Bible for the month of February was announced by the chairman, Mrs. A. J. Stewart, and attention was called to the World Day of Prayer program to be given on Friday, Feb. 17. A small newspaper was displayed from the Mathers School in Georgia and a letter was read from Miss Opal Stoner, special interest missionary girl. The hostess served delicious refreshments.

At 9:30 a.m. Thursday, Feb. 2, the Vern Fulop Circle 5 met with Mrs. W. J. Gardner, chairman, with eight mothers present and 12 children.

Bandages were rolled for White Cross Overseas Project, which will be sent to India. Plans were made to attend Lenten services instead of a regular meeting in March. The hostess served delicious refreshments.

Due to weather conditions the Peggy Smith Circle No. 4 and the Dorothy Carder Circle No. 6, which meets in the evening, postponed their meeting until a later date.

WWI Auxiliary Officers

Installation ceremonies for WWI Auxiliary 385 were held at the VFW Home last week. Bertie Spaulding, center, was installed as president of the group. Left to right, surrounding Mrs. Spaulding: Mabel Olson, vice president; Adeline Warmoth, treasurer; Mabel Markword, installing officer; Ethel Taylor, vice president; Hazel Roman, conductress; and Harriet Brasel, chaplain.

A short business meeting was held prior to the installation ceremonies and refreshments were served immediately following. Members of Barracks 385 were invited guests.

Road Gents Urge Drag Strip For Jacksonville

A COMMUNICATION
To The Journal Courier
And Jacksonville Citizens:

A drag strip is a measured, controlled length of pavement, blacktop, or similar surfaced area, usually one-fourth of a mile in length. Controlled means that only two cars are permitted on the pavement at a time, thus eliminating the danger of collision or multi-car accidents.

The primary purpose of a drag strip is to take the speeding, racing cars off our highways and streets, and give the mechanically-inclined the opportunity to prove their ability without endangering the public. A sanctioned race is on acceleration test to determine which cars can develop the most power and speed over a measured distance.

The two primary factors considered in such a race are: Elapsed time, or how much time it takes to cover the distance; top speed attained over the distance.

Why does Jacksonville need a drag strip?

The basic need is to take the speeding cars off the streets and highways in our community. Secondly, it would give the mechanically-inclined youths an opportunity to spend their energies on their cars rather than wasting their time on the streets, just driving at high rates of speed. Finally, a drag strip is a proving ground on which persons of various ideas can prove their theories without endangering the lives of the public. It also provides competition off the city streets and averts more tragedies as this community has just recently witnessed.

This community provides facilities for competition in athletics, boating, swimming, etc., so why shouldn't we, the citizens of Jacksonville, back an organization that will provide the mechanically-inclined a place to participate in a hobby of their choice without endangering the property and lives of the public?

Let us support an organization that will help the youths of the community and also do the community a service by removing the speeding cars from the streets and highways.

Interested persons may obtain more information from the Jacksonville Road Gents by mailing a card to Road Gents, 1134 West Walnut street, Jacksonville, Ill.

Respectfully,
Jacksonville Road Gents, Inc.

DAR GOOD CITIZEN GIRLS TO ATTEND THURSDAY MEETING

The Rev. James Caldwell Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will entertain the thirteen winning senior high school girls as "Good Citizens" and their mothers. The meeting will be held at the Chapter Home, starting with a luncheon at one o'clock Thursday, February 9, Mrs. Paul Black is chairman of the "Good Citizen Awards."

The hostesses are to furnish the meat for the luncheon. Members are requested to bring all other types of foods for the meal and their table service. Hostesses for the meeting are Mrs. Roy Hopper, Mrs. Donald Ransdell, Mrs. Arthur F. Ewert, Mrs. William H. Jones, Mrs. Fred Deatherage and Mrs. Clyde Driver.

The program speaker, Mrs. Carl Rieman, Jr., will demonstrate and explain the arts of flower arrangements. Special music will be on the program. The Regent, Mrs. Charles Bowen, will conduct the meeting.

At the Burmeister establishment an adding machine and several dollars cash were taken.

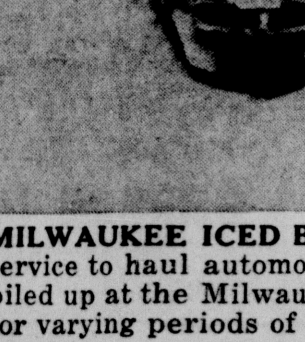

Admits Second Store Burglary

Charles Hennessey of Springfield, formerly of this city, made an oral confession to police here Sunday that he burglarized the Burmeister grocery store, 742 North Clay avenue, on Dec. 8.

The 19 year old youth is being held in the Morgan county jail in connection with the burglary of the Taylor grocery store.

At the Burmeister establishment an adding machine and several dollars cash were taken.

MILWAUKEE ICED BOATS—The Milwaukee Clipper, pressed into winter service to haul automobiles, and two regular carferries, inch their way in ice piled up at the Milwaukee harbor entrance by an East wind, delaying six ships for varying periods of time.

Harold Worman, Former Pike Man Dies In St. Louis

PITTSFIELD—Harold Albert Worman, 75, former Pittsfield resident, died Sunday morning at his home in St. Louis, Mo.

The remains are at the Plattner funeral home here where services will be held at 11 a.m. Wednesday with Rev. Kent Sanderson officiating. Interment will be made in Pittsfield West cemetery.

Mr. Worman was born at Pittsfield Oct. 28, 1885, the son of A. H. and Minnie Wagner Worman. He was married to Sue Pennington and she died Sep. 1, 1960.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Earl McKenna and Mrs. Arthur Harshman, both of Pittsfield. There are three grandsons and six great grandchildren. One sister, Mrs. Boneta Murphy of Pueblo, Colo., also survives.

Problems Facing Aged Told To League, A.A.U.W.

Speaking to a joint luncheon meeting Saturday of the A.A.U.W. and Morgan County League of Women Voters, Dr. Joseph Kozma discussed problems facing the elderly of the nation as well as the 15-18% over age 60 of Morgan county.

High ranking of the medical problems of this age group are the cardiovascular and heart diseases along with arthritis, the major chronic illnesses. Dr. Kozma feels that prevention of these illnesses can be accomplished to a large extent by early public education in the field of exercise, diet and medicine.

Financially, the person over 65 has less earning capacity and with compulsive retirement, which in some cases is being lowered to 60, and with inflation his savings no longer hold their original value.

In the area of governmental care of the aged, Dr. Kozma feels it is the decision of American people whether they want to change the method of health care.

Specific problems of Morgan county are that only 150 nursing home beds are available, where 300 are needed. Accreditation problems are arising with some homes becoming obsolete. More recreational facilities are necessary. The services of a physical therapist, both in the home and hospital, although available, are not being utilized, according to Dr. Kozma.

Lichens are among the first plants on any ice-scoured land and act as pioneers for flowers and trees.

Oil Stove Overheats, Causes Fire Alarm

Firemen responded to an alarm at 6:45 o'clock Sunday morning to the home of George Holiday, 628 Sandy street, where an oil stove was overheated. The situation was taken care of without damage.

FIND CATHOLIC DEAN DEAD

WASHINGTON (AP)—Very Rev. Edmond D. Benard, 46, dean of the School of Sacred Theology at Catholic University, was found dead Saturday beside a burning armchair in his study. He had been on the university faculty since 1943 and in 1955 won the Cardinal Spellman medal for outstanding work in sacred theology. He wrote several books and conducted many programs on "The Catholic Hour," a network radio program. He was born in Boston.

President Hayes' inaugural day fell on Sunday, so he broke precedent by taking his oath privately at the White House

Gene Copley Of Winchester Dies Suddenly Sunday

WINCHESTER—Frederick Eugene (Gene) Copley, 44 year old farmhand for Albert Coultas, suffered a fatal attack at 5:45 p.m. Sunday evening while driving a truck near his home northwest of here. Mr. Copley was accompanied by two of his younger sons, ages 9 and 13, when stricken. His truck went off the gravel road and ploughed into the embankment at the side. The truck was not damaged and the young Copley boys suffered no ill effects.

Mr. Copley was born in Scott county July 8, 1916, son of Frederick and Sadie Miller Copley. He was married to Ada Sanders and they were parents of six children. Surviving are his father, residing at Roodhouse; the widow and children, Norma Jean, Edward Eugene, Thomas Allan, William Frederick, Richard Lee and Peggy Sue, all at home. His mother preceded him in death.

The following brothers and sisters survive, Mrs. Jess VanCleave, Ashland; Mrs. Virgil Dawson, Beardstown; Mrs. Levert Walker, Roodhouse; Carl Copley, White Hall; Mrs. Marjorie Kessler, Roodhouse; Mrs. Darrell Kessler, Greenfield; Mrs. Roy Atkinson, White Hall; James C. Roodhouse and Ross of Jacksonville. The body was taken to the Cunningham funeral home where services will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday with interment to be made in Fernwood cemetery at Roodhouse. Scott county coroner Carl Woodcock will conduct an inquest at a date to be set later.

Home Missions Board Pledges $100,000 To Illinois College Fund

"The Board of Home Missions has pledged $100,000 to Illinois College for its Christian Higher Education Fund." The telegram was received by Illinois College from Wesley A. Hotchkiss, general secretary of the Division of Higher Education for the Board of Home Missions.

The pledge from the Board of Home Missions is from the Christian Education Fund, a national campaign to assist colleges associated with the Congregational Christian Churches.

President L. Vernon Caine commenting on the pledge stated, "A pledge of $100,000 to Illinois College from the Christian Higher Education Fund by Congregationalists is much appreciated. It is another evidence of the response of a great denomination to the pressing needs for higher education today."

"For 132 years the Congregational and Presbyterian Churches have had a part in the advancement of Illinois College. Again at this time when the college is ready to take another major step forward, both denominations have given substantial support to our program. As in the past, we shall continue to do all we can to be worthy of the ongoing support of Christian people who look to Illinois College to provide a sound academic program in a Christian environment."

The pledge completes the $750,000 non-public portion of the present fund-raising program for one and one-half million dollars. The non-public portion was to be raised from the Presbyterian and Congregational Churches and the Trustees of Illinois College and the Rammelkamp Fund.

The Forward Step Program funds will be used for the Rammelkamp Memorial Chapel, which will begin construction this spring, the Crispin Science Hall, the remodeling of Sturtevant, Whipple, and Jones Halls, and a swimming pool to be added to the present gymnasium.

To-date there is still $164,000 to be received for the public portion of the program.

JFK May Give Farm Program This Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy is expected to send his first specific farm program to Congress sometime this week as he makes known his recommendations on what to do about the burgeoning feed grain situation.

This likely will also give some insight to the thinking of the new secretary of agriculture, Orville L. Freeman, who has been consulting with the President on the general farm situation.

Kennedy has stated that he will follow up his program on feed grains with another special message to Congress on what should be done with a related crop, wheat.

Stocks of both feed grains and wheat are at all-time highs.

A feed grain task force reported to Kennedy that the feed grain situation confronting the nation is critical. It said government holdings of feed grains under the price support program, owned by under loan, totaled about 70 million tons on Jan. 1, 1961. These holdings were valued at $3.6 billion.

The task force estimated that under a continuation of existing programs the carryover of feed grains will increase to 84 million tons by Oct. 1, 1961, about double the size of the carryover in 1956.

In a taped television interview Sunday, Freeman gave general endorsement to the task force's proposal to withdraw some farm acreage from production. He gave no details, but said:

"I will make a compensatory allowance to the farmer who is willing to cooperate so that we will not be faced with the problem of producing more feed grains than we can use at the moment. The figures as such are something that have not been resolved."

Some sources believe that Kennedy will follow in general the recommendations of the feed grain task force for an emergency program of a voluntary type. The main features of this program include:

1. Some increase in the level of price supports.

2. Retirement of a percentage of each producer's feed-grain acreage into a nonproductive, soil-conserving practice.

3. Payments to producers of conservation practice payments to induce farmers to participate.

4. The provision of a payments-in-kind feature for those who wish to cut back more than that required by those farmers eligible for price support.

Carrao Funeral Is Held Sunday

Funeral services for Mrs. Ruth Corrao, mother of Mrs. Edith Davis, wife of Dr. Robert Lee Davis of this city, were held at 3:30 Sunday afternoon at Williamson funeral home.

Rev. Lando Eitzen of the Congregational church officiated. Mrs. Arthur Angel presided at the organ.

The remains were then sent to Pennsylvania where burial will be made in Homewood cemetery at Pittsburgh.

CWF GENERAL MEETING AT CHURCH WEDNESDAY

The general meeting of the Christian Woman's Fellowship of Central Christian church will be held Wednesday, Feb. 8th. Potluck supper will be served at the church at 6:30 p.m. Members of the Men's Fellowship will be guests at the meeting. There will be no board meeting before the supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Savage will present the program, Amateurs Abroad.

CORRECTION

The 4-H electricity school will close at Farm Bureau hall Wednesday evening, and not on Friday evening as stated in Sunday's Journal Courier.

The 38 students will present demonstrations during the program, which will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Collect $225.35 For Meredosia March Of Dimes

MEREDOSIA — The March of Dimes volunteers collected a total of $225.35 from Meredosia citizens and organizations during the past week. If anyone was missed because of not being at home, he may still contribute by calling one of the solicitors.

These organizations gave these amounts: Sportsman's Club, $10; Meredosia Budget, $5; American Legion Auxiliary, $3; Emmanuel Lutheran Ladies Aid, $5; Sportsman's Club.

The regular meeting of the Meredosia Sportsman's Club was held at their Club House last Thursday night with 22 members present. The meeting was in charge of James King, president. After routine business, committee chairmen were named. "The Dead End" by the Monroe Auto Equipment Co. and "Behind the Scenes" were shown.

Refreshments of meat and cheese sandwiches, pop, and coffee, and potato chips were served by Lewis Stone, Wayne Bracovell, and Lloyd Anderson. The refreshments committee for the next meeting will be Leland Weber, James Major, and Harold Weber.
